ABOUT ME

Aacademically trained as a product designer, with twelve years of experience in the field of design, architecture, journalism, and philosophical deconstruction, I possess a keen interest in understanding a product audience and expectation, I seek to fulfill a role which helps to form a link between a consumer and a company, mediating between the two parties, and coming up with relevant and interesting design solutions. At the other end, I can communicate the innovation of a company to an uninitiated consumer.
